

Amazon.com Inc.,

I am an incredibly motivated guy with an unparalleled work ethic. I received my high school diploma and associate's degree in business administration simultaneously in 2013 along with my bachelor's degree in economics in December of 2014. I have held a variety of jobs ranging from restaurant work to being an assistant auditor. I enjoy learning and I always look forward to new opportunities.

I feel that I would be a strong fit for this position because I can bring a unique set of skills to the company. Through my time in Boy Scouts and my science teams, I was able to develop strong skills in leadership and problem solving. These skills were helpful in both my school and work environments where I would often take charge of projects and see through that they were done thoroughly and in a timely manner.

The questions now is how all this can be applied to Amazon.com Inc. for the financial analyst positions. The job description and values of the company look for someone with good collaboration skills, who can manage also multiple tasks simultaneously and be able to attain a high quality of work in an efficient manner. Taking into consideration my resume and the above written, I feel that my background, experience, and qualifications are a strong match for the vacant position.

I thank you very much for your consideration and I welcome the opportunity to discuss with you personally how my skills and strengths can best serve the company.

Sincerely,
Zachary Thompson
